

Call for papers

In the pursuit of excellence in scientific research, Hansraj College announces a call for paper submissions to its new scientific journal the “HRC Journal of Contemporary Science”. It is an open-access peer-reviewed journal that publishes full-length research papers, short communication, reviews, and mini-reviews across all science academia spectrums.

By submitting your research work to this journal, you can highlight your research and enhance its visibility among the global scientific community. We are aware of your expertise in higher education and research and would be grateful if you contribute a research/review article to the HRC Journal of Contemporary Science. The guidelines for the submission have been attached herewith. Kindly submit the manuscripts to jcs@hrc.du.ac.in.
